Department of Taxation and Finance
Tax Law, Article 13-A Rates

Pursuant to the provisions of subdivisions (e), (f), (g) and (h) of section 301-a, subdivision (b) of section 301-d, subdivisions (b) and (c) of section 301-e, subdivisions (a) and (c) of section 301-j and subdivision (a) of section 308 of the Tax Law, the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance hereby gives public notice regarding the petroleum business tax (Tax Law, Article 13-A) rate adjustment calculation and the resulting rates effective January 1, 2005 (effective March 1, 2005 for quarterly filers) as follows: The motor fuel and automotive-type diesel motor fuel rate is adjusted from $.088 to $.092; the nonautomotive-type diesel motor fuel rate is adjusted from $.079 to $.082; the residual petroleum product rate is adjusted from $.060 to $.063; the kero-jet fuel rate is adjusted from $.058 to $.060; the aviation gasoline rate is adjusted from $.088 to $.092; the rate of the supplemental tax on aviation gasoline is adjusted from $.058 to $.060; and the rate of the supplemental petroleum business tax is adjusted from $.058 to $.060. The separate rate of supplemental petroleum business tax with respect to automotive-type diesel motor fuel is adjusted from $.0405 to $.0425; it is computed by subtracting one and three-quarters cents from the adjusted rate of the supplemental petroleum business tax. The railroad diesel rate is adjusted from $.075 to $.079; it is computed by subtracting one and three-tenths cents from the motor fuel and automotive-type diesel motor fuel rate.

The utility credit (or reimbursement) rate with respect to residual petroleum product is adjusted from $.0475 to $.0498 and the utility credit (or reimbursement) rate with respect to unenhanced diesel product is adjusted from $.0478 to $.0501. The utility credit (or reimbursement) rates are further adjusted by adding one-half of one cent to the adjusted rates of the utility credits (or reimbursements); the utility credit (or reimbursement) rate with respect to residual petroleum product is further adjusted from $.0498 to $.0548, and the utility credit (or reimbursement) rate with respect to unenhanced diesel product is further adjusted from $.0501 to $.0551.

The adjusted petroleum business tax rates are obtained by multiplying the existing rates by a fraction, the numerator of which is the sum of the monthly producer price indices (unadjusted) for refined petroleum products for the twelve consecutive months ending with the month of August 2004, and the denominator of which is the sum of the monthly producer price indices (unadjusted) for refined petroleum products for the twelve consecutive months ending with the month of August 2003. Such monthly producer price indices for the twelve consecutive months ending with the month of August 2004, are 97.8, 96.3, 91.6, 92.8, 103.6, 103.7, 108.0, 114.2, 123.7, 115.6, 122.0, and 122.9 which total 1292.2. Such monthly producer price indices for the twelve consecutive months ending with the month of August 2003, are 88.2, 95.6, 85.8, 81.2, 93.1, 110.6, 118.4, 95.7, 88.0, 91.5, 94.9, and 99.9 which total 1142.9. The producer price index for the category of commodities designated as refined petroleum products is published monthly by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor. As required by law, the adjusted rates, except the utility credit (or reimbursement) rates and the rate of supplemental petroleum business tax with respect to automotive-type diesel motor fuel, have been rounded to the nearest tenth of one cent. The utility credit (or reimbursement) rates and the rate of supplemental petroleum business tax with respect to automotive-type diesel motor fuel have been rounded to the nearest hundredth of one cent. Section 301-a of the Tax Law does not allow the rates to change by more than 5 percent of the rates in effect on December 31. The above rates reflect this limitation.
