PUBLIC NOTICE

Department of Health
Patient Safety Award

This grant will promote a prenatal program that begins prior to delivery and is designed to identify high-risk women early in their pregnancies. The program's focus is to reduce the number of admissions to the special care nursery, improve birth outcomes, increase compliance with prenatal care, reduce the number of positive toxicology reports for illicit drug use during pregnancy, assure that all reports and suspected child abuse or maltreatment are warranted and made appropriately, and help pregnant women and their household occupants stop smoking tobacco. A "high risk" woman is anyone whose medical or psychosocial situation places her at increased risk of delivering a pre-term infant or becoming involved in the child protective system. This project will be funded under Section 2807-c(19) of the Public Health Law, under which the Commissioner of Health has the authority to award grants without competition. Program contact: Cathy Blake, Director, Health Care Quality Initiatives, NYS Department of Health, 5 Penn Place, New York, NY 10001 (212) 268-7093
