PUBLIC NOTICE Office for People With Developmental Disabilities and Department of Health

Pursuant to 42 CFR Section 447.205, the New York State Office for People With Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD) and the New York State Department of Health hereby give notice of the following:

The State proposes to amend its Title XIX (Medicaid) State Plan by changing the reimbursement methodology for clinics certified or operated by OPWDD, effective July 1, 2011. OPWDD is proposing regulations to implement the reimbursement methodology.

The unit of service will be a clinic visit. A clinic visit must include face-to-face service. However, associated observation will be considered a face-to-face service. A clinic visit is all the clinical services provided for a person on a common date of service, except that a diagnostic and evaluation service conducted over more than one day will be treated as one visit, and on-site and off-site clinic visits provided on the same day will be treated as two separate visits.

Clinics will assign ICD diagnostic codes and CPT/HCPCS procedure codes to all services and will submit this information with claims for reimbursement. The methodology will group these codes to Ambulatory Patient Groups (APGs) based upon the intensity of the services provided, procedures performed, diagnoses, and resource utilization. Each APG is associated with a relative weight, and there are procedure-specific weights and associated weights. APGs, APG relative weights and procedure-specific and associated weights are listed in Department of Health regulations. APGs may package with a same-day medical visit. When multiple procedures group to the same APG, payment may be discounted.

Each clinic is assigned to a peer group. Peer Group A includes clinics that have the main clinic site in New York City or Long Island. Peer Group B includes clinics that have the main clinic site in any other county in the State. Peer Group C includes clinics that are affiliated with and serving two major hospital systems and that, as of July 1, 2011, are designated by the United States Department of Health and Human Services' Administration on Developmental Disabilities as a University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities; are designated by the National Institutes for Health's Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development as an Intellectual and Developmental Disability Research Center, and are designated by the United States Public Health Service Health Resources and Services Administration Maternal and Child Health Bureau as a Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities training program.

There is a base rate for each peer group. The operating component of the rate is the product of the base rate and the procedure's allowed relative APG weight or the final APG weight for each APG on a claim.

If a visit includes a service which maps to an APG which allows a capital add-on, there will be a capital add-on to the operating component of the APG payment for the visit. The capital component will equal the capital cost component of the clinic's regular visit fee in effect on June 30, 2011.

OPWDD will review the capital cost component beginning July 1, 2012 for clinics that were licensed by the Department of Health as diagnostic and treatment centers, transferred long term therapeutic and clinical habilitative services on or after April 1, 2009 to an OPWDD licensed clinic, and received capital funding equal to the diagnostic and treatment center property component. OPWDD will compare the capital cost reimbursement to the clinic's actual capital expenditures from the financial report for the period two years prior. The capital cost component will then be changed to the lesser of (1) the most recent reimbursement; or (2) the greater of actual capital expenditures or the amount reimbursed to OPWDD licensed clinics that not having their capital component reviewed.

APG reimbursement will be phased in using a blended payment. The blended payment will be comprised of the clinic's provider specific average legacy fee, plus payment under the APG methodology, plus a capital cost component, if any. For the twelve months beginning July 1, 2011, the payment will be 75% of the provider specific average legacy fee and 25% of the APG fee; for the twelve months beginning July 1, 2012, the payment will be 50% of the provider specific average legacy fee and 50% of the APG fee; for the six months beginning July 1, 2013, the blend will be 25% of the provider specific average legacy fee and 75% of the APG fee. On and after January 1, 2014, fees will be entirely APG based.

OPWDD will determine the average legacy fee as follows. OPWDD will determine counts of paid visits for each clinic and visit type under the previous reimbursement methodology for service dates between April 1, 2009 and March 31, 2010. OPWDD may adjust this look-back period to accommodate instances where a clinic was not certified by OPWDD for the entire year. OPWDD will also determine each clinic's total operating payment by visit type by multiplying the count of paid visits for the visit type by the operating component of the fee in effect on June 30, 2011 for the same visit type. OPWDD may adjust these results to prevent a clinic from incurring a decrease or increase in Medicaid reimbursement disproportionate to that of the clinics within its peer group. OPWDD will then sum the total operating payments by visit type and then divide this amount by the clinic's total paid visits across all visit types. The result will be the average legacy fee for the provider.

Clinics that begin operation on or after July 1, 2011 will be reimbursed in accordance with the phase-in except that the average of the legacy fees for all clinics will be used in the payment calculation, instead of the clinic-specific average legacy fee.

Department of Health regulations list the clinic services that will not be paid using the APG classification and reimbursement system.

The reasons for the change are as follows. Reimbursements will correlate more closely to the service intensity and complexity. Also, OPWDD's methodology will be consistent with that used by other New York State agencies to reimburse clinic services.

The State does not expect there to be any increases or decreases in annual aggregate Medicaid expenditures as a result of this change.

Texts of the proposed regulations have been distributed to the offices of the local (county) Mental Hygiene Directors and are available for public review. To determine the location of your local Mental Hygiene Director including the office within Manhattan (New York County), you may access a list online at <http://clmhd.org/about/countydirectory.aspx>.
